Departing Passengers:

All passengers must check in at the ticket counter, located just north of the Lufthansa counters, on the west side of the terminal. Denver Air Connection ticket counter is open 3 hours prior to departure time.

Connecting From Another Airline:

If you have checked baggage, collect your baggage from the baggage claim on level 5, then check in at the Denver Air Connection ticket counter.

If you have carry-on baggage only, you may check in at the gate. The gate counter is open 45 minutes prior to departure.

Arriving Passengers:

Upon reaching Denver International Airport, passengers will exit the aircraft and proceed directly into the concourse. Carry-on baggage will be returned at the gate. Passengers with checked baggage must exit the sterile area, return to the main terminal and claim their checked baggage from the baggage claim area. You can then check in for your connecting flight, or access ground transportation to your final destination.
